

Employee Handbook Rules

1. Code of Conduct

Employees must act professionally, ethically, and respectfully toward colleagues, clients, and management at all times.

2. Anti-Discrimination and Harassment

Discrimination, harassment, or bullying of any kind based on race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, age, disability, or other protected characteristics is strictly prohibited.

3. Attendance and Punctuality

Employees are expected to arrive on time and adhere to their scheduled work hours. Excessive tardiness or unexcused absences may result in disciplinary action.

4. Leave Policies

Requests for vacation, sick leave, or other time off must be submitted in accordance with company policy. Abuse of leave policies is prohibited.

5. Dress Code

Employees should maintain a neat and professional appearance. Specific uniforms or dress codes must be followed if applicable to the role.

6. Workplace Safety

Employees must follow all safety guidelines, use personal protective equipment when required, and report unsafe conditions immediately.

7. Confidentiality

All company information, client data, and trade secrets must be kept confidential during and after employment.

8. Use of Company Property

Company equipment, computers, phones, and vehicles must be used responsibly and primarily for business purposes.

9. Technology and Internet Use

Employees should use the internet, email, and other digital tools responsibly. Personal use should be limited and must not interfere with work.

10. Conflict of Interest

Employees must avoid situations where personal interests conflict with company interests, including outside employment or business relationships.

11. Performance Expectations

Employees are expected to perform their duties efficiently, meet deadlines, and maintain a high standard of work quality.

12. Disciplinary Procedures

Violations of company policies may result in warnings, suspension, or termination depending on severity and recurrence.

13. Substance Abuse

Use, possession, or distribution of illegal drugs or alcohol during work hours is strictly prohibited. Prescription medications must be used responsibly.

14. Reporting Violations

Employees are encouraged to report unethical behavior, policy violations, or safety concerns through designated channels without fear of retaliation.

15. Remote Work and Telecommuting

Remote work arrangements must comply with company policies regarding productivity, security, and communication.

16. Social Media Conduct

Employees must exercise caution when posting on social media, avoiding content that could harm the company's reputation or disclose confidential information.

17. Intellectual Property

Any work created during employment is the property of the company unless otherwise agreed in writing.

18. Employee Benefits

Employees are entitled to benefits such as health insurance, retirement plans, and other perks, which are outlined in the benefits section of the handbook.

19. Professional Development

Employees are encouraged to pursue training, certifications, and skills development in alignment with their roles.

20. Separation of Employment

Employees leaving the company must follow proper resignation or termination procedures, return company property, and complete exit interviews as required.

Leave Policy

Employees are entitled to various types of leave to support their health, personal life, and family responsibilities. All leaves must be requested and approved in advance, where possible, according to company procedures. Abuse or falsification of leave requests may result in disciplinary action.

1. Annual / Vacation Leave

- Eligibility: All full-time employees accrue annual leave based on length of service.
- Accrual: Typically 1–2 days per month worked, up to a maximum carryover limit.
- Request Procedure: Employees must submit leave requests at least 2–4 weeks in advance, subject to manager approval.
- Usage: Vacation leave is intended for rest and personal time. It should be scheduled to avoid disruption of business operations.

2. Sick Leave

- Eligibility: All employees are entitled to sick leave for personal illness or medical appointments.
- Documentation: A medical certificate may be required for absences longer than 2 consecutive days.
- Notification: Employees must notify their manager as soon as possible, preferably before the start of the workday.
- Unused Sick Leave: May not be carried over indefinitely, depending on company policy.

3. Maternity / Paternity Leave

- Maternity Leave: Female employees are entitled to maternity leave in accordance with local laws (e.g., 12–26 weeks). Paid or unpaid status will follow statutory requirements.
- Paternity Leave: Male employees may take paternity leave to support their partner and newborn child, typically 1–2 weeks paid.
- Procedure: Employees should provide at least 8 weeks' notice before expected delivery date, along with required documentation.

4. Bereavement / Compassionate Leave

- Eligibility: Employees may take leave due to the death or serious illness of a family member.

- Duration: Usually 3–5 days paid leave, depending on the relationship to the deceased.
- Notification: Employees must notify their manager immediately and provide documentation if requested.

5. Public / National Holidays

- Employees are entitled to paid leave on recognized public holidays.
- If required to work on a public holiday, compensatory leave or overtime pay will be provided in accordance with company policy or local law.

6. Emergency / Unplanned Leave

- Employees may request leave for urgent personal matters or unforeseen emergencies.
- Approval: Must be approved by the manager, and employees should notify the company as soon as possible.

7. Leave Without Pay (LWOP)

- Employees may request unpaid leave for personal reasons not covered by other leave types.
- Approval: Subject to management discretion and operational requirements.
- Impact: LWOP does not accrue benefits like annual leave or pension contributions during the leave period.

8. Sabbatical / Long-Term Leave (Optional, if applicable)

- Long-term leave may be granted for professional development, study, or personal projects.
- Duration: Typically 3–12 months, depending on company policy.
- Eligibility: Employees must have completed a minimum tenure (e.g., 5 years).
- Conditions: Return-to-work agreements may be required.

General Rules for All Leave Types

- Leave balances and usage are tracked in the HR system.
- Employees must ensure adequate handover of responsibilities before leave.

- Unauthorized absence may result in disciplinary action.
- Managers have discretion to approve or deny leave requests based on operational requirements.
